

Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 16 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Dry and cloudy, odd brighter spells possible.

Today:

Another largely cloudy day but brighter breaks possibly developing to the west of Dartmoor and Exmoor in the afternoon. Predominantly dry but feeling a touch less mild than of late. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:

Dry but largely cloudy, however some breaks in the cloud are possible, particular across north Devon and Cornwall, where the cloud does break some mist and fog patches are possible. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Friday:

Remaining settled Friday, any mist or fog lifting, leaving most places largely cloudy all day. Temperatures down a little on recent days. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:

Largely settled over the weekend and into Monday, but on the cloudy side with limited bright spells. Continued risk of fog and frost under overnight cloud breaks. Gradually turning colder.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.